

SPRIT OF JEFFERSON.

CHARLES TOWN, JEFFERSON COUNTY, W. VA.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 3, 1891.

The Spirit of Jefferson will be sent to new subscribers from now until January 1st, 1893, for the price of one year's subscription.

Sale of Lots at Charles Town Nov. 4 and 5.

The Masonic Grand Lodge of West Virginia will meet in Martinsburg Nov. 10.

Ex-President Cleveland has been making some strong speeches in New York and Boston.

Senator Faulkner and Congressman Wilson were announced to speak in Cumberland last night.

Senator Faulkner spoke in Frederick City last Thursday, and in Tammany Hall Friday night.

The Martinsburg street car line is in operation. The cars are elegant, and are run by electricity.

Secretary Blaine has returned to Washington and assumed his position at the head of the State Department.

The land sales of the Martinsburg Mining, Manufacturing and Improvement Company, last Friday, amounted to $71,750.

Elections to-day in Colorado, Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New York, New Jersey, Nebraska, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

Gov. Campbell has been making a rattling campaign in Ohio, against all the power that money can array against him, and deserves a grand triumph.

The Hagerstown Herald says the Hagerstown Fair Association owe a debt of gratitude to Mr. Towner Schley, of this county, for his efficient services as marshal.

When a plow manufacturer in Pennsylvania can afford to sell a plow five dollars cheaper in Canada than he does to the American farmer, there is something wrong. The tariff permits that kind of business.

As the result of a murderous attack upon sailors of the U. S. cruiser Baltimore, in Valparaiso, serious correspondence has ensued between the Chilean government and ours, and the situation is somewhat war-like.

Intending purchasers at the Charles Town lot sale will not find merely a subdivision of bare fields by imaginary lines, without improvements—but will see a system of well laid out streets, a number of them elegantly McAdamsized, with plank walks, costly and substantial brick buildings erected, profitable industries in active operation, and the hum of business activity everywhere apparent.

Mr. I. C. Haas has purchased a half interest in the Basic City (Va.) Advance, and will become one of the editors of that paper. Mr. Haas has been for some years a part owner and editor of the Baltimorean, and will bring to his new duties a ripe experience and ready capacity that will doubtless add increased interest to the columns of the Advance and aid materially in the upbuilding of this promising locality.

There will be a lot sale at Shenandoah Junction on Wednesday, November 18th. Mr. Jas. W. McGarry has laid off a large number of eligible located lots, and will on the above date offer an opportunity to the public to purchase good building sites. The Junction is a good location for a nice, thrifty town, and is rapidly growing up, with good prospects for a bright future. This lot sale, therefore, offers decided inducements for investors in that locality.

Hon. Wm. L. Wilson, of West Virginia, opened his campaigning tour in Massachusetts, at Roxbury, Monday night, before an audience which crowded the Dudley Street Opera House. He spoke in high terms of the personal worth and ability of the opposing gubernatorial candidates, and then went into an elaborate and striking exposition of the inequalities and injustices of the McKinley tariff bill. The speech was liberally applauded throughout.—Balt. Sun.

To show the interest taken in our section of country by the officials of the Norfolk & Western Railroad Company several communications have recently been received by one of our leading real estate dealers in Charles Town transmitting inquiries for lands; not only from individual parties, but from immigrant agencies, with a view of locating colonists. And this is only the beginning of what will take place when the great wealth—both mineral and agricultural—is more fully developed, not only within the radius of a few miles of Charles Town, but in this beautiful and fertile valley of Virginia, in the hidden bowels of the Blue Ridge and North Mountains. The wonderful recent discoveries in minerals is only preparing us for greater and more precious finds in the near future. Our lot has surely fallen in a pleasant country.

Our Iron Ores to be Developed.

The fact that this place is the center of a large and valuable iron supply, is now recognized by practical iron masters and capitalists. Maj. Geo. T. Cornig, of Philadelphia, who was here a few weeks since, having been sent by iron men interested in these ores to investigate and report upon their quantity and quality, has corroborated fully all that Capt. Howard and other experts have said. He says there is from the Virginia ore-bank in this county to the Carnegie mine in Clarke county, a continuous outcrop of most valuable hematite ores, such as are in immediate and constant demand on account of the ductility of the metal they produce.

Some gentlemen of means in our community have purchased the Carnegie mine, and intend to develop it at once. We understand the engineers of the N. & W. R. R. have just made a reconnaissance with a view to locating a track to this valuable mine. We hope ere long to see a furnace located here to utilize these ores, and other iron industries must speedily follow.

Maj. Cornig, who made the above investigation, is considered a leading authority on iron ores, and is familiar with the hematite ore-bearing lands from Pennsylvania to Alabama.

Charles Town Progress.

The Development Company Going Ahead—The Coming Sale of Lots.

[From the Wheeling Intelligencer.]

Messrs. Forrest W. Brown and B. C. Washington, of Charles Town, are in the city on business connected with the development movements going on in their town. To an Intelligencer reporter Mr. Brown said: "As you are aware, we have decided to have another lot sale November 4 and 5, and we think if our friends will come and see what we are doing they will see that there is a good opportunity for safe and profitable investment."

"The object of the sale is to enable stockholders to convert their stock, which is always of fluctuating value, into lots, the value of which, on account of the development going on, is steadily increasing. The values at Charles Town are not inflated, but are conservative, never having been submitted to any boom influences. The managers recognize that the Charles Town Mining, Manufacturing and Improvement Co. is essentially a stockholder company, there never having been any ground floor to the enterprise, and they are anxious to have the stockholders realize the expectations which induced them to subscribe to the stock, which they believe can be done best and soonest by converting a good part of this stock into lots. The lots offered will be in the center of the development going on, between the belt railroad and the manufacturing area located and the old town."

The Berkely Arms hotel at Buchanan, Va., was burned on the 27th ult. The building was an immense and very fine one and valued at $100,000. It was insured for $57,000.

Gen. Scott Ship, superintendent of the Virginia Military Institute, is making arrangements to build a memorial hall to Stonewall Jackson. The estimated cost of the building is $40,000, $10,000 of which, it is said, has been secured.

The very dangerous railroad crossing at Peacher's Mill is to be done away with. Mr. O. T. Kemp has a force of men at work there now making an under-rail passage. The railroad bank will be cut through, the sides of the opening walls up and iron girders placed across the top. It is understood that the B. & O. and the county each bear half the expense of the improvement.—H. F. Sentinel.

The new bridge at Radford, Va., was constructed by the American Bridge and Iron Company, of Roanoke, of which Col. Sam Walton is president. The bridge proper is 1,400 long, 40 feet wide, and spans a river at a height of 88 feet. Its cost has been upwards of $90,000. It is the longest highway bridge in the South and has 27 spans. The river is 680 feet wide where the bridge crosses.

John, have you seen that woman lately?

John, in astonishment, What woman?

That woman picking grapes for Speer's Wines. Just see her in another column and read about it; the wines are found by chemists to be absolutely pure and equal to the best in the world. The Board of Health in Large Cities and leading Hospitals have adopted their use where wines are needed.

The Raleigh (N. C.) Evening Mirror says of one of our former townsmen:

We are glad to know that our enterprising friend P. H. Hughes, Esq., has fallen so deeply in love with Raleigh. He has contracted for the building of three or four nice cottages. He is a thoroughbred Patrick Henry kind of a solid Democrat that we like to have settle among us and put his earnings in Raleigh dirt. Success to you and yours, old boy.

Leech-Haines

[From the Staunton (Va.) Daily Times, Oct. 29.] The last slanting rays of the October sunshine fell through the chancel window of Trinity church yesterday afternoon, and lit up the wedding ceremony of two of the most popular young people of our city, when Miss Nettie Haines, daughter of Mr. Evie S. Haines, was married to J. Wilson Leech.

Professor Webb was at the organ, and for nearly half an hour before the time appointed for the ceremony, rendered beautiful selections with consummate skill. It was just five minutes after the hour appointed when the last chords of the symphony he was playing died away, and gave place to the glad burst of the opening strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, which announced the entry of the bride, who came in leaning on the arm of her brother, Fay Haines.

The bride, who is a beautiful brunette, was dressed in a very tasteful, though simple, fawn-colored broadcloth traveling costume, and carried an exquisite bouquet of la France roses tied with a knot of pink ribbon. She was met at the chancel steps by the groom, who was attended by his best man, Stuart A. Leitch, of New York. The ushers were Joseph Carpenter, G. Frank Garber, R. G. Tillman and J. A. Alexander.

Rev. W. Q. Hurlbush, the rector, read the beautiful Episcopal service very impressively. The bride's responses were clear and distinct, and were heard above the music of the organ from which during the ceremony came the soft, sweet strains of "Lohengrin."

The attendance at the church was very numerous, and well attested the popularity of the young people.

The newly-wedded pair left immediately after the ceremony for the railway station and boarded the 4:40 train for the west on their wedding tour.

A POPULAR FAMILY.

JAMES: "How is it, Kate, that you always seem to 'catch on' to the best new thing that comes out?"

KATE: "I don't know! I certainly do not make any exertion in that direction."

JAMES: "Well, during the few months, for example, you have taken up painting."

KATE: "Why, Jennie, you will make me so many days bring me all information on the subject. Magie? No! Magazine! And a great treat to it is to us all, for it really furnishes the reading for the whole household; father has given up his magazine that he has taken for years, as he says this is the best, and it is all in one place."

THE FIRST PUBLIC SALE OF LOTS

AT Shenandoah Junction,
JEFFERSON COUNTY, WEST VIRGINIA, will take place on Wednesday, Nov. 18,

1891, and will continue the following day if necessary. This place has been extensively advertised as Antietam by the Antietam Steel Plant and Manufacturing Co., and is widely known as the most desirable unoccupied plot in

THE SHENANDOAH VALLEY.

It is located at the crossing of the grand trunk line (main stem) of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and the great Norfolk and Western Railroad.

These lots are in an elevated position, systematically laid off, and reach within fifty yards of and overlook the joint depot and crossing of the two railroads, with a double switch, reaching around two sides of the plot. The land is situated all along this switch for manufacturing purposes, and sufficient quantity has been left adjoining the switch for said purposes. Within three and a-half miles of this place, and connected with it by rail, there is which is extensively worked. There are also other ore beds not far away. This is besides desirable for many other enterprises.

Free Sites for Manufacturing Purposes, if satisfactory contract is entered into before day of sale.

TERMS OF SALE.—One-third Cash, the residue in two equal payments at six and twelve months, with interest. Title withheld till purchase money is all paid. Or, if desired by the purchaser, a deed will be given and deed of trust taken to secure balance of purchase money. Fencing reserved. For further information address the owner, JAMES W. MCGARRY, November 8, 1891. Shenandoah Junction, Jefferson County, West Virginia.
